Looking Back ...

The Cumberland County Historical Society should feel proud of its many milestone accomplishments in 2015. In the midst of various activities related to events, programming, research, publications, exhibits and fundraisers, CCHS managed to open its new G.B. Stuart History Workshop on High Street and commence work on our community pocket park adjacent to the Society. Furthermore, our Board of Trustees rolled up its sleeves and streamlined committees, realigned our institutional organizational chart and implemented our 2015-2020 Strategic Plan. Staff, volunteers and committee members, in turn, united around the Society's mission and vision despite challenges and budgetary restraints. Yet, we cannot thank our membership-base, patrons, annual givers and sponsors enough for what they did for CCHS last year. You recognized our needs and gave repeatedly and selflessly throughout the year despite economic pressures. The fruits of all these labors are becoming more and more apparent. Our pocket park landscaping is underway, visitorship and engagement with the Society is increasing county-wide, families are beginning to spread the word about the new History Workshop, our new websites (including gardnerlibrary.org) are launching and our fundraising and development activities are getting more refined. You will see a myriad of other initiatives and events in this annual report to get excited about — there are just too many to mention here. Again, we appreciate your ongoing efforts to champion Cumberland County history and CCHS' mission. On behalf of the entire CCHS family, have a wonderful 2016!

- Jason Illari, Executive Director

Library

The Hamilton Library had an eventful 2015. In January the library closed for a week to replace the carpet in the workroom with tile. This involved us emptying the room of all of the shelving units, map cases, and desks. We are very pleased with the floor which should last a long time and be easier to maintain than carpet. We continued to offer the genealogy workshops in conjunction with Deborah Sweaney. Cara gave a presentation at Elizabethtown College to a group of Central Pennsylvania Librarians on what "A Day in the Life" at CCHS is like. The Library and Photo Archives worked with NPR's Radiolab for an episode about football. The hosts visited Carlisle to discuss the Carlisle Indian Industrial School Athletes. Season 13 Episode 4 looked into the past and future of American Football. Barb and Cara also presented at a roundtable in June at Native American and Indigenous Studies Association conference with the Dickinson College Archives regarding their Carlisle Indian School Digital Resource Center project (carlisleindian.dickinson.edu).

We started a program with the Cumberland County Library System. Members of the library system can check out passes for the Hamilton Library from their local public library that waives the $5 fee to use the library. These can be checked out for a week and are able to be renewed. We are excited to be working with the public library and working to make our collections more accessible to the public.

Another way we are working on making our history and collections more accessible to the public is through the Gardner Library. We have been doing a lot of work to prepare for the ribbon cutting of this project on May 19, 2016. We look forward to seeing this project grow.

- Cara Curtis, Librarian

Museum

In 2015, we had over 2,800 visitors and provided 13 guided tours of the museum. The museum received a total of 46 new accessions this year, thanks to our generous donors. 2015's major exhibit, Mills of Cumberland County, coincided with the society's new mill book and mill tours. Interns Alan Schulze and Kelly Henderson provided help with the mill exhibit and museum collections. The holiday exhibit Santa's Workshop naturally lent itself to a very successful family program. Last but not least, our exhibit schedule also left us time to prepare for 2016's major exhibit on the 1960s.

Design work completed by the museum department this year included layout for the CCHS Journal and David Smith's new book The Babes in the Woods Story, as well as the annual report and other miscellaneous items. In museum collections news, we had three "Save yOur Stuff" artifacts conserved, returned, and proudly exhibited. We were grateful to have the help of other groups or individuals who helped design exhibits this year including: the Letort Regional Authority, Patrick Herman, Madison Darhower, Chelsea Rahal, Kelly Henderson, Emily Reinl, Carla Christiansen, and Michael Collins. CCHS also collaborated with Cordier Antiques on the Harrisburg Symphony Showhouse at Lindenwood. Thank you to the museum staff, committee, docents, and volunteers who all work together to make this possible.

- Rachael Zuch, Curator

Photo Archives

The major focus in the Photo Archives last year was follow-up work from the mill book that was published in March of 2015. Hundreds of mill-related photos were filed and a large manuscript collection was organized and given to the library. A DVD was completed that features over 500 mill-related photos and an Excel file of mill data gleaned from the county tax records. The second area of focus was the processing of additional materials that were added to the Milton Embick Flower Collection. This many-faceted collection is a very significant addition to our archives.

The Photo Archives received and processed 59 new accessions that included several thousand new images for our collection. We processed 63 orders for clients that amounted to a little over $5,000 of income. Some of our larger orders were for a Radiolab program, prints for Artworks in Mechanicsburg, prints for the new Hoffman-Roth Funeral Home, photos for a new Carlisle Indian School publication by Nebraska Press, photos for a Carlisle Syntec booklet, and Masland Carpet photos for an anniversary booklet published by Masland Contract of Saraland, Alabama.

Photo volunteers made progress in the ongoing organization and cataloging of thousands of images. Thank you to our 14 Photo Archives volunteers who help us on a weekly basis. Thank you also to all who donated images to us in 2015.

- Richard Tritt, Photo Curator

Education

In an effort to increase outreach, the Education Department formed several new partnerships, especially within the local retired communities. All this was done while continuing to provide programming for our traditional public, private, charter, and home school audiences. During 2015, two generous grants, the G. B. Stuart Foundation and the Cumberland County Housing and Redevelopment Authority, made the opening of the G.B. Stuart History Workshop possible. This new facility, located in the Odd Fellows building at 29 W. High Street, provides a modern space for educational programming, while creating a main street portal to the CCHS campus. This new space is intended to give visitors a unique way to interact with history in a hands-on atmosphere.

Over the past year, interns provided valuable research projects and programming while learning about the workings of a multi-departmental historical society. The Education Department would like to thank Emily Reinl, Kristen Kachel, and Madison Darhower for their service and wish them success in future endeavors.

- Matthew March, Education Curator

Historic Properties

During my first year at the historical society, I was impressed with the facilities as well as the knowledge and dedication of the staff, board and volunteers. Last year I set forth a number of maintenance goals; these included the repainting and replacement of all rotted wood on the Two Mile House and its outbuildings, the restoration of the gardens, increased rental revenues, and further development of the McLain Festival. An Eagle Scout project resulted in the restoration of the front right gardens (if you are facing the house), as they would have appeared at the turn of the century. The house also received new oriental carpets, thanks to trustee Ann Hoffer and M&Z Carpets, and rentals increased from 20 in 2014 to 44 in 2015. The McLain Festival was, once again, a success with 1453 attendees. Finally, toward the end of the year I assisted with the preservation bus tours and tours of the Odd Fellows Hall.

In 2016, as the Historic Properties Coordinator, I hope to build on the previous year's projects and continue to improve our facilities. I plan to complete more maintenance projects at the Two Mile House, such as the replacement of the chimney flashing and repairs to the outbuildings. At the 21 North Pitt Library and Museum, several HVAC units are in need of repair and will be a focus this year. Another priority is the repair of the gable, repointing and painting of the roof on the 33 West High Street Annex. These projects are important to the overall health of our facilities and allow us to further develop our mission to preserve the county's history.

- Kurt Lewis, Historic Properties Coordinator

History on High – The Shop

History on High would like to take this opportunity to thank each one of you who shops, visits the Visitor's Center and Facebook, volunteers and our talented artists and authors who give their valuable time. I so appreciate all of your help and friendship. Thanks to all of you, History on High – The Shop won Best of Carlisle for 2015 Shopping and Retail!

This year, we welcomed 6,632 visitors to the shop and 867 visitors who signed into the Cumberland Valley Visitors Center, almost an 18% visitor center increase. Our 12 Shop Volunteers logged in 626.25 hours and the Visitors Center Volunteers donated 414 hours. Our year began with old man winter being cruel to us all. This affected the visitation and sales numbers, but we were able to almost catch up by the end of the year.

Dickinson College offers us work-study students: Sofie Anderson graduated in May and Leanne Hoppers graduated in December (both returned for their senior year). Madonna Enwe and Kienan Dixon continue to work on reprinting in-house a few of our favorite CCHS books that are out of print and new books such as The Babes in the Woods Story by David Smith. Our other work study students are Lindsay Park, Helena Jeudin, Zoe Kaminski who help with our Stuart Foundation History Center in addition to being sales associates in the Shop.

History on High offers a variety of scheduled events throughout the year and we partake in Carlisle's First Fridays during the Spring, Summer and Fall. We also participated with our CCHS Annual Block Party, Carlisle Summer Fest, and we give books to the War College's new students.

Paul Hoch carved during the Harvest of the Arts Festival and we extended our hours during the Carlisle Event's Car Shows, and we participated in Carlisle's Trick or Treating and the Easter Hop events.

This year our featured artist was Jonathan Frazier with a one man art show titled "Susquehanna River Views". Other events were several felting classes taught by Bonnie Tweedy Shaw, and a jewelry trunk Show by Richelle Dourte's metallizedwith. Joe Cress continues to lead many Wicked Walks and book signings. Other book signings were held with local authors Mary Ann Morefield, Francis Moody, David Smith, Joan West and Ruth Wrightstone from the Mechanicsburg Museum Association. Janene Mullen entertained us playing Celtic music on her dulcimer to celebrate St. Patty's Day!

- Kim Laidler, Shop Manager

Programming & Membership

Our 2015 year started out with 451 people attending the Wednesdays In Winter program, followed by the exhibit opening for "Mills of Cumberland County." Throughout the year, the Society hosted numerous talks, walking tours, bus trips, Fall History Series, and CCHS's 3rd Annual Golf Tournament. We finished the year off with 150 people participating in our Holiday Family Program. New for this year were two Mill Bus Tours, where one tour followed the Conodoguinet Creek and the other tour followed the Yellow Breeches Creek. It is very exciting for the Society to have a total of 2,057 people attend our 2015 events.

- Lynda Mann, Programming and Membership Coordinator

Looking Forward...

Greater Carlisle Heart & Soul

PROJECT

Greater Carlisle Heart & Soul Project is pleased to be working with, as well as based in, the Cumberland County Historical Society. Throughout this year Heart & Soul will engage the Greater Carlisle public to listen, tell and share stories about our community. From these stories we will come to understand what we value, what matters most, how we relate to each other and to our landscape and what we want for our future.

During storytelling we want to hear about:

- Your favorite places to visit
- Locations you feel are at risk and in need of protection
- Stories of positive change in our community

And from these stories we will learn:

- Why places are valued, distinctive and great locations to visit
- What resources are at risk, how we can protect them and how the community can help protect what we value
- How people feel about changes in the community, the hopes and fears of our community and how to realize a hopeful future

This summer you will find us at:

- Bosler Memorial Library – Tell us your story May 28; 10:00 - 3:00
- CCHS First Friday Block Party – Tell a story get a root beer float June 3
- Boiling Springs Foundry Day June 4
- Open day to explore the places and locations revealed in our stories Sept. 10

How you can help:

Suggest locations to collect stories or become a volunteer! We're looking for individuals to help collect stories at events, organize their own storytelling events, listen and organize the collected stories, research places identified during collection and help organize our open day.

For more information, to suggest locations to collect stories or to volunteer contact:

Join Education Curator Matthew March for a fun Tie Dye afternoon. Participants will make their own shirt to take home in the spirit of the 60s. Ages 8-12. Only 15 spots available. $20 includes supplies and t-shirt.

Overnight at the Museum!

Friday August 12, 2016. 7 p.m.

Children 5 and up, accompanied by an adult, are invited to enjoy an overnight at the Museum! Participants will watch a family-friendly show on the big screen, enjoy storytelling, partake in an historic reenactment and sleep under the glow of the History Workshop fish tank. All you need is a sleeping bag and pillow. Snacks and breakfast provided by CCHS. Contact CCHS soon to fill out necessary forms and reserve your spot. $20 per participant.

Frank Maurer

Frank Maurer, internationally known stone carver, is presenting Cumberland County with a piece of history, July 17, 1:00-2:00 p.m. at the Two Mile House.

Maurer who has presented historic-themed stone carvings to Scotland, Wales and more than half of the states in the U.S., will present a Scots-Irish heritage "Tartan Stone" to the Cumberland County Historical Society.

The stone is being carved from the same type of granite that was used in the building of the Pennsylvania Capitol Building.

Cumberland County has been selected to receive the stone as it was here that many Scots-Irish immigrants settled and set out to carve a new country's future.

Join us for a taste of heritage, discovery and fun in the beautiful gardens at the Two Mile House. Please rsvp to Lynda Mann at lmann@historicalsociety.com. Light refreshments will be served following a brief presentation about the stone and its history.

Legacy Lunches at TMH

Historical Society Executive Director Jason Illari and Development Chair Ann Hoffer are excited to announce CCHS' first ever "Legacy Lunch" to be held in the gardens at the Two Mile House this summer. Individuals who have included CCHS in their will or estate planning are invited to attend this sit-down meal in a relaxed, fun setting. Jason will speak about society initiatives and happenings and highlight a special item from the society collections. This is a free event to show our appreciation to our legacy givers. Contact Jason by phone 717-713-0961 or by email jillari@historicalsociety.com for more information about the invitation. The exact date and time will be announced soon.

Upcoming Exhibits

We are grateful to have had our 1960s exhibit sponsored in honor of Jim and Helen Scott. Our next major exhibit will be samplers sponsored by the Charles and Tandy Hersh Family. The samplers will be on exhibit for two years, with the main focus for 2018 being an updating of the permanent museum galleries. Sponsorships are still open for the 2019 exhibit on World War I.

Volunteers Needed

The G.B. Stuart History Workshop needs you!

If you love history and enjoy engaging with adults and children to share that interest, please join us as a volunteer in the History Workshop. No experience or special knowledge required...all the activity stations are self-explanatory and the main job of the volunteer exploration guide is to welcome visitors and introduce the activities. You'll even have fun yourself. When was the last time you played a vinyl record on a record player, made a spin art picture, or played a game of Twister? For more information about signing up for a two hour shift on a Thursday, Friday, or Saturday, contact Matthew March or Robin Fidler, Education Committee chair at robinfidler47@gmail.com.

Architecture

The Cumberland County Historical Society announces its new architectural history initiative:

The Richard C. Reed Architectural Lectures

Thanks to the generous support of Society member Maureen Reed and her family, in the fall of 2016 CCHS will host its first annual R.C. Reed lecture on Cumberland County architecture. The new initiative compliments the Society's renewed focus on architecture and preservation throughout Cumberland County, particularly remembering architectural design, structure and history in the 20th century. Mark your calendars for September 15th when architectural historian Wendy Pires speaks on Changing Architecture in Carlisle in the 1960s. This free event, open to the public, will be held in the Society's Todd Hall at 21 N. Pitt Street. More details on this evening event in the fall program brochure.

History Series with Jeff Wood

Keep your schedule open Monday evenings September 12 – October 24, 2016. More details forthcoming in our next program brochure.
